MEET DAVE!

Dave Collins - Salesman

I have been in the building industry since 1978. I spent a year as a truck driver then went into sales. I spent 3 years in a construction partnership, the rest of the time spent taking care of my customers, selling lumber and other building products. I am well versed in residential and commercial products. I've handled all sizes of jobs, anything from a garage to a large commercial project. One of the good things about getting old is that you can draw on experience.
